

DANTE'S INFERNO

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Rich Battistessa

Calling all Italian cooks and braggarts

Anyone who's into cooking might appreciate our upcoming Il Cucco Magnifico, a pasta cook-off event planned for September.

We're looking for a few good cooks. Actually, we'd like to make this a fun competition. If you like to cook and brag a little, if you think you make a pretty mean pasta sauce, red or white, we'd love for you to participate.

Our thought is to have the contest as part of our regular September membership meeting. Members of both the men's club and the Ladies Auxiliary are invited to take part.

We're just in the planning stage for this event, so we'll have more information available in the coming weeks. Let's see who will be "Il Cucco Magnifico" of the Dante Club!

In other news, Dante Club members have given the OK

Viva Vino!

A small but appreciative crowd enjoyed all that this year's Viva Vino had to offer. The May 21 event featured wines from nine local wineries and beers from two local breweries, as well as live music (including tunes by club member Eric Luchini, left), crafts by local artisans and handmade olive oils, sausages and pastas. Volunteers helped make a flawless presentation from beginning to end. Dante Club members and friends who didn't make it to Viva Vino should calendar this wonderful event for May 2018 now.

NEWS, NOTES AND OTHERWISE

Ladies Auxiliary

Several Ladies Auxiliary members traveled by bus to San Francisco to see the musical Roman Holiday, followed by dinner in North Beach.

Auxiliary member Gloria Tomei organizes several trips a year for members and guests to a variety of events and locales.

New members

In May, the Dante Club inducted Anthony Reay, sponsored by Joe Cerniglia. We also interviewed Joe Porata, who was approved by members. We hope to induct him in June.

We also honored longtime member Babe Lovotti as a lifetime member. He joined the club in 1961 and is a past president.

We hope to honor Gus Kanelos in June.

The club has several openings for membership. After our recent member approval of a change in the bylaws, we hope to bring in a few more people to the club.

To obtain member applications, go to the club website, speak to Joy Reinhardt in the office or contact Frank Calcagno at 916-515-1117 or fscal@comcast.net.

In memoriam

Longtime member Walter Langhi died recently.

Please remember the Langhi family in your prayers.

Club apparel

Aprons and sweatshirts are among clothing items available for purchase. We have four styles of sweatshirts and polo shirts for men, women and children.

To order items, speak to Ron Cristoni at a meeting or reach him at 916-457-4516 or roncristoni@aol.com.

You must present cash or a check made out to the Dante Club when you place an order.

Scholarship winners

We will welcome scholarship winners at our June members meeting and present them with replicas of their checks. Recipients are Elaine Carlson, related to member Ernie Tomasilli; Julia Giordano, related to John Giordano; Julia Viliquette, related to Joe Cerniglia; Mia Franzoia, related to Mark Franzoia; and Nicolas Karnow, related to Josephine D'Alessandro.

Buildings and grounds

The Dante Club installed a new canopy at the entrance on May 24.

Jim Dimino, Bill Giovannetti and their crew continue to pursue the costs of bocce courts, oyster shells notwithstanding. They're also working with Joy Reinhardt to ensure club rooms stay at 72 degrees this summer. Joy is coordinating service for air conditioning units to include belts, filters, cleaning and fixing a thermostat in the Venetian room that's spezzato.

The Dante Club building sports a new green canopy at the entrance.

for a change in our bylaws, which will now take effect.

After a third reading of the proposed change at our last membership meeting, members voted for the amendment, which affects members of the Ladies Auxiliary whose husbands wish to become members of the Dante Club.

Under the bylaws, a sponsor may introduce prospective members to the board, and they must be interviewed.

Here is the change in the bylaws:

a. An Associate Member can be non-Italian by birth or origin, but his spouse must be the daughter of a member of the Dante Club, either deceased or living, in good standing.

OR

b. An Associate Member can be non-Italian by birth or origin, but his spouse must be of Italian origin and a current member of the Dante Club Auxiliary.

c. Associate Members shall not exceed 15 percent of the total membership of the Dante Club. They shall enjoy all rights and privileges of membership but cannot vote or be nominated or elected to office.

Italian city of Bologna beckons with great food and lively atmosphere

Bologna is truly a marvelous, fascinating city, which is well-known for its fabulous cuisine.

I'm pleased to say that, in 2011, I had the pleasure of tasting a great deal of it.

There's no question that Bologna is one of the best foodie places in the world.

The famous Bolognese sauce was created here and remains one of the city's signature dishes. Mortadella with pistachios is another Bologna original.

There's more, of course, to Bologna than its Bologna's signature twin towers, left, the Torre degli Asinelli and the Torre Garisenda, tilt like the Leaning Tower of Pisa. Porticoes, similar to the one at right, make navigating the city easy and enjoyable.

Polpette, or Bologna-style meatballs, are among the city's many culinary delights.

cuisine. It's also home to Europe's oldest university, the University of Bologna, founded in 1088.

So it's a vibrant and alive city, a destination in Northern Italy that's not to be missed. The sidewalks of many of the streets in Bologna are covered with porticoes. That feature, along with the city's layout, makes it an especially easy place to walk around and enjoy.

Bologna also is known as the city of towers because of its many medieval towers, including two that tilt like the more famous leaning tower in Pisa.

From Bologna you can easily access the cities of Parma, Modena and Ferrara, as well as the Adriatic coast.
